TECHNOLOGIES & CONSULTING

Your Future Starts Here...

Allied Technologies & Consulting (ATC) is a Service-Disabled, Veteran Owned Business (SDVOSB) serving government and commercial clients in many scientific and technical disciplines. We build teams of experienced professionals who are passionate about client service and mission success. If you're looking for a great team for the next phase of your career, consider a future with ATC.

We're looking for talent, from entry level to experienced subject matter experts. We need people with technical, scientific, and healthcare backgrounds who are familiar with military and government contract environments. Your experience should be complemented with education, training, and relevant certifications. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, undergo background and drug screening, and obtain a Public Trust Clearance (NACI) or higher. We seek candidates with well-developed communication, interpersonal, and computer skills, and a strong work ethic. We want individuals with the character and commitment to continue building our team. People transitioning from military and civilian government careers make strong candidates for our teams.

In return, expect to be challenged, respected, and rewarded. We offer competitive salaries and benefits. We develop our employees through continuous learning, challenging work, and supportive leadership. We value the contributions of every employee. Each member of our team is treated like part of our family.

Bringing People & Ideas Together

Why work with ATC?

Because Your Experience Matters.

ATC puts talent and experience to work at the leading edge of innovation. Our teams help government and commercial clients meet current and emerging needs in defense, healthcare, science, and technology.

Because You are Mission-Focused.

So are we. You've spent years learning what it means to work hard, strive for excellence, and get the mission done. Our teams are getting vital missions accomplished, every day.

Because You Want to be Valued.

ATC is a diverse and dynamic organization built on core values of Integrity, Excellence, Service, and Value. We build careers for people who want to do more than just bring home a paycheck.

Because You are Ready for the Future.

ATC hires many people in transition from military and government service. Our employees want to use what they've learned and accomplished to build a better future. At ATC, we are building a better future together.
